Life Saver, and floor saver to!, January 7, 2008
by jenjamsam from Houma, LA

"My toy poodle has been trained to use a puppy pad, but at night time he would seem to want to go anywhere! We had to change the carpet in 3 rooms of our house! We got new floors, this time wood so we could mop up the mess. However, now that I have these dog wraps I don't have any problems with it at all. The price is kinda high, but it is well worth it. This is the only brand of male dog wraps that keeps its shape after washing. Others would shrink and I could no longer use them. This is a huge life saver for me and my dog!"

I was worried he wouldn't keep it on, July 18, 2007
by CowboysMom from Parker, CO

"17 year old very active dog; I was worried he would have the garment off in a few seconds, but he doesn't even seem to notice it. It is a great solution to his night-time incontinence, and we may extend the time he wears it now. I am really pleased with the effectiveness of it and that he doesn't mind it at all."

Best product ever, December 5, 2006
by ksbksks from Oregon

"We are the owners of a 12 year old little dog that we took when my mother in-law had to go to foster care. It was either find a solution to his bad habit of peeing on anything in sight or else put him down. This product saved his life and mine! At first he was a terror trying to put it on him, but now after two years of wearing them he has become used to it. I have to buy bladder control pads (female pads are not absorbent enough) but that is a small expense compared to ruining EVERYTHING in the house. I highly recommend them. I just ordered two more (for his Christmas stocking), I will then have a total of 6 wraps, so I can keep clean ones on hand at all times."

How dry I am, November 18, 2006
by Paymaster from Ewing NJ

"Thank goodness for this product our dog is 13 years old and has become incontinent. This product has saved our carpets, furniture etc . The wrap is very easy to use and washes easily. I would suggest buying more than one since you are supposed to air dry the wrap."

Works Great!!!, September 11, 2006
by RNicoleC from Orange Park, FL

"The male doggie wrap (diaper) works great! I have a 4 month old Jack Russell and when he gets excited or scared he squirts everywhere. He has even squirted on my friends. He doesn't seem to mind the wrap being on him and it stays on well. Now when he gets excited his wrap keeps my friends and the floor clean and squirt free. It is also great for when he decides he doesn't want to walk all the way outside to potty.

He just squats like normal and doesn't even know the diaper is catching it. I still act like he is using the bathroom on the carpet and punish him so he does not think it is ok to go in the diaper (or what he thinks is the floor). The diaper requires diaper pads to be placed inside and changed every time they use it. They are purchased separately and are the exact same thing as a female pad (they are just in a different box and priced higher)."

This is Great!, August 31, 2006
by Spikeandlucy

"This is great....My poor male dog Spike had been banished outside due to habitually marking his territory. We bought this product today and He is now enjoying the house and family Again! Also it hold anysize sanitary pad so you don't have to buy the expensive ones that are made for it"
